Job Description

The University at Buffalo, Department of Exercise and Nutrition Sciences is now accepting applications for a full-time position of Assistant Professor of Exercise Science. We encourage applications from candidates who are historically underrepresented in academia. This is a 10-month, tenure track position and is designated at the faculty rank of Assistant Professor to begin August 2020.

Major responsibilities of this position are to establish and maintain an externally funded independent research program, teach undergraduate and graduate courses in exercise science, mentor graduate and undergraduate students, and participate in service activities (e.g., Department, School, University, and Professional organizations). The ideal candidate will establish a line of independent research that will complement and build off current strengths of the department.
