Job Description

Join the Winthrop P. Rockefeller team and help us fight the battle against cancer
Multiple Research Faculty Positions Available

The UAMS Winthrop P. Rockefeller Cancer Institute is seeking exceptional candidates for tenure-track Epidemiology faculty positions in the following disease site areas: breast, colorectal, lung, gynecological and prostate cancers. Underrepresented minorities and individuals with expertise in community-based research or health disparities are strongly encouraged to apply.

Applicants must have an earned doctorate in Epidemiology from an accredited program and highly competent in epidemiologic methods. Priority will be given to investigators with active extramural funding. Applicants should have a strong record of recent accomplishments as a postdoctoral fellow or sustained productivity as a faculty member with high impact publications and extramural funding.

Successful applicants will join one of the most prestigious cancer centers in the country. The Winthrop P. Rockefeller Cancer Institute is the only academic cancer center in the state of Arkansas with a robust cancer research portfolio treating over 2,500 new cancer patients a year and supporting nearly 270 cancer clinical trials. This recruitment is made possible through significant institutional support and a $10M annual commitment from the state of Arkansas to support the Cancer Institute's efforts to attain NCI Designation.

If you are looking for natural beauty, spectacular views and scenic waterways or prefer a thriving downtown, with a robust restaurant and music scene, complete with a low-cost-of-living, no need to choose, we can offer you both. With 52 state parks, two mountain ranges and 2,400 lakes, Arkansas is known as "the Natural State". It ranked No. 10 on the list of Top Moving Destinations of 2020 according to United Van Lines, the nation's largest household goods mover. Located in central Arkansas, Little Rock, the state's capital, is centrally located in the state on the Arkansas River (<http://www.littlerock.com/>). Little Rock was honored in 2013 as the #1 city in Kiplinger's 10 Great Places to Live (small to midsize city category), was also ranked in Forbes in the 15 Best Cities for Young Adults and One of Five Secret Foodie Cities, and in May 2016 was ranked as #4 in the 20 best affordable places to live in the U.S. by U.S. News and World Report (<http://realestate.usnews.com/real-estate/slideshows/the-20-best-affordable-places-to-live-in-the-us/>).

Applicants should send a 3-page research statement, their Curriculum Vitae, a one page letter of interest, and 3 professional references directly to Recruitment Administrator, Jennifer Moulton at jamoulton@uams.edu. Applications will be reviewed now through September 1, 2021. Selected applicants will join a diverse and vibrant academic community that values its researchers and is committed to diversity, equity and inclusion. Applicants must be able to work in a team environment.

In order to be considered, all applicants must also apply to our posted position on our HR website; Jennifer Moulton will send you a copy of this link when your application is received.
