reproductive/maternal health, informatics and care transitions, among others. We welcome other programs of research to expand our current capacity.

Major areas of responsibility include:

- Developing, building and implementing a program of research to qualify for a tenure-track assistant professor position with up to three years of support
- Contribute to teaching nursing at the undergraduate and graduate level
- Engaging in school, university, and community professional service
- Building a network of colleagues to support a funded program of research

We are particularly looking for candidates who can operate effectively in a diverse community of students and faculty and share our vision of helping all constituents reach their full potential. We are committed to developing an excellent and diverse community of scholars and students engaged in education, research, and service. We encourage applications from women, members of historically marginalized groups, veterans, and individuals with disabilities.
