Posting Detail Information

Position Summary

The University at Buffalo School of Nursing (UBSON) educates clinical leaders, conducts impactful research, and collaborates with community partners in delivering high quality clinical care. UBSON invites qualified applicants to apply for a position that addresses our missions in one of New York's premier nursing programs. The qualified individual will work with students, faculty, administrators, and community partners to implement and oversee experiential learning initiatives. This is a full-time staff position.

Key Responsibilities/Job Duties:

- Collaborate with Assistant Dean of Undergraduate Nursing Programs and Director of Faculty Practice Initiatives to identify and develop new experiential learning opportunities for students, including community-based service learning, externships, clinical experiences, and volunteer opportunities.
- Facilitate administration of simulated nursing experiences for students.
- Develop and manage service-learning events throughout WNY, including pop-up clinics to provide community-based health assessments and vaccines.
- Conduct outreach to identify and cultivate new and existing community partnerships to expand experiential learning experiences for nursing students.
- Work with clinical coordinators to schedule students experiential learning experiences.

Required Skills and Abilities:

- Ability to communicate effectively in a diverse community of internal and external partners.
- Strong organization, prioritization, and multitasking skills with attention to detail.
- Ability to work independently with sound problem-solving skills.
